sey, officer of the deck. Miss Buckner saw the white-clad figure hurtling through the air and promptly dove into the bay. Lawton was stunned by the fall and Miss Buckner reached him in time to keep his head above water until the launch picked them up and took them aboard ship.

Aside from the wetting and the discomfort of wearing such raiment as the officers could provide, Miss Buckner did not suffer from her experience. When she went over the side on her return ashore the 100 middles and the crew of the Hartford manned the deck and cheered the young woman.

Miss Buckner is a niece of the late Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner and is prima donna of the "Isle of Spice" company, now playing at the Globe and which goes to New York next week for a run.
